

Class separability in the full six-dimensional Tasseled Cap space, shown as a symmetric heatmap of the Jeffries-Matusita distance between every pair of the ten classes. Color and the printed value run from 0, where two classes are indistinguishable, to 2, where they are fully separable, so darker off-diagonal cells mark pairs the classifier will most easily confuse. Read a row or column to see how distinct one class is from all the others.